

Agnes Ahlman

Frontend Developer

Hi there! I am a driven and creative person who has a big passion for development! While I have a main focus on Frontend, I am also curious about Backend and enjoy learning more about it! Beyond my technical skills, I have a lot of experience with leadership and working with people. As a former preschool teacher, I understand the importance of effective communication and teamwork.

Freelance

Designed and build a website for Synthax AB

- Logo Design (Adobe AI)
- Website Prototype / wireframes (Adobe XD)
- Website (Next.js, TypeScript)

2019- • Preschool Teacher

2022

In my role as a preschool teacher, I have developed leadership skills as I have taken the "project leader"-role in many projects; both large and small groups, for both adults and children. I have learned to work under stress, always contribute to a positive atmosphere and to think outside the box.
